raising predicate) also does not theta mark its subject, and may also does not theta mark its subject because it is an auxiliary (i.e. functional categories are not θ- markers).Thus, there is only one θ-role assigned to the argument of the verb assigned (i.e. PATIENT), satisfying the θ-criterion.