6(ii)

This movement operation raises someone from being the subject of VP to become the subject of IP ;therefore, it is called subject-to-subject raising (abbreviated as subject raising and generally known as the VP-internal subject hypothesis). The core assumption of the VP-internal subject hypothesis is that subjects originate in spec-VP and remain there in expletive structures, as in (4) and (5) , and in control structures ,as in 7.
